

Campaign Fact Sheet

Experienced service. Practical priorities. A strong voice for students, families, and St. Louis neighborhoods.

| 20+                                    | SLPS Parent                     | Local Voice                     |
|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| years serving St. Louis Public Schools | and longtime community advocate | helped restore local governance |

Background

Donna Jones has spent more than two decades serving St. Louis Public Schools and advocating alongside parents, students, and community members. As an SLPS parent, she understands that district decisions shape daily life for families and entire neighborhoods.

Her record includes helping restore local governance to SLPS—work grounded in the belief that St. Louis residents deserve a meaningful voice in how their public schools are led.

Campaign Focus

- Strong neighborhood schools: School closure should not be the first solution. Begin with strategies that strengthen and stabilize schools.
- Job-ready pathways: Prepare every student for what comes next, including college, careers, and trade-school pathways.
- Community voice: Listen to families and neighborhoods before major decisions are made.
- Local accountability: Protect transparent, locally accountable leadership for SLPS.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Strong schools. Real pathways. A community voice.